

Because they are Christians? Germany rejects many asylum seekers from Iran

Berlin - Iran flee predominantly people who are persecuted by Islam-fascists in Tehran. Now the federal government is deep in the butt.

Is that perhaps the reason why Christians, homosexuals and Islam critics have little chance to get asylum here? Only a small proportion of refugees from Iran obtaining protection from Germany. As is clear from a reply of the Federal Government at the request of the Left Party, report the newspapers Funke Media Group (Tuesday editions), the Federal Office for Migration and Refugees in 2018 decided (BAMF) about 11,430 asylum applications by people from the state under Shiite leadership. But only 2,619 Iranians were given shelter in Germany.

More than 5,000 asylum seekers rejected the Federal Office from accordingly. Nearly 4,000 cases were closed because the applicant emigrating or withdrew the asylum application. Many Iranians also accuse German administrative court against the BAMF decision.

So got loud response from the federal government in 2018 estimated that nearly 1,300 people by a ruling of a protection status. The Left in parliament criticized the Federal Office for the asylum decisions with Iran. According to human rights organizations, especially the opposition, Christians and homosexuals are persecuted by the regime in Tehran. Also, the BAMF himself speaks in a "decision letter" from February 2019 "increasing migration pressure" by 40 years after the Islamic Revolution. Torture and restricted religious freedom are still part of the political and legal system in Iran.

But perhaps the Islamic associations in Germany become so powerful that they can veto here or as an employee in BAMF have enough influence to send these persecuted back home.
